■屋根工事等の「点検商法」のトラブルにご注意！

<Beware of problems with roofing and other “inspection” schemes!>

Inquiries: Hamura City Consumer Affairs Center ☎ Ext. 641

Contractors will suddenly visit your house and tell you that they will inspect the roof and underfloor for free. After the inspection, the contractor will tell that the roof will leak or that the foundation will rot, and then the consumer will be forced to sign a contract for expensive home repair work.

[Example]

Suddenly, a roofing contractor who claims to work on roofs in the neighborhood came to my house and said, “I saw that the tiles on your roof have shifted and I can inspect your roof for free. After the inspection, he showed me pictures of cracked and shifting roof tiles. If I don't fix it, the tiles will fly off and cause problems for neighbors. Then, I became worried and signed the contract in a hurry, but regret and want to cancel it.

[Answer]

If a contract was signed by a contractor who visited you unexpectedly, you can use the “cooling-off” (unconditional cancellation of the contract) within 8 days from the date you received the contract document or the application form. I explained to the consultant how to give a cooling-off notice.

[Advice on how to prevent problems]

Do not make an immediate decision on an expensive contract! Consult your family, acquaintances and consider carefully.

- Do not allow a contractor who visits you suddenly to inspect your home.
- Do not sign a contract immediately and carefully consider whether the contract is really necessary.
- When making home repairs, get estimates from multiple contractors and compare them.
- Do not take the contractor's word for it, even if you are told that insurance or subsidies are available.
- In some cases, a cooling-off or cancellation of the contract may be possible.

If you encounter consumer trouble or feel uneasy, please contact the Consumer Affairs Center as soon as possible.
